(N. E. A. Staff Special)

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 12.—The world today awaits expectantly scientific investigation of the startling adventure in spiritism of Prof. Thomas Lynn Bradford and Mrs. Ruth Starkweather Doran.

Prof. Bradford killed himself at 9 on the night of Feb. 5 to make "the great adventure." He hoped to solve for all time the age-old problem of life after death by trying to communicate from beyond the grave with Mrs. Doran. Now she says that she has received a message from him.

Prof. Bradford, one-time athlete and actor, turned in his later life to studying and writing on the occuli. Finally he published a curious advertisement for "someone interested in spiritualistic science."

This advertisement was answered by Mrs. Doran, member of one of Detroit's oldest families writer, lecturer and member of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The professor and Mrs. Doran hald several conferences at her home.

COCK FIGHTING REVIVAL CAUSE OF 111 ARRESTS

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 21.—Revival of cock fighting, hammed by law twelve years, was revealed here today with the arraignment of 111 prisoners taken in a raid on the National Conduit building gesterday. The prisoners include prominent business men of Toronto, Hamilton, Chicago, Brantford and Niagara Falls.

Twenty-five live fighting cocks amid three hens and five cocks which had lost their lives in battle before the police arrived, were confiscated. One of the birds had steel spurs attached and a set of dagger-pointed "mailed spurs" was found in a pocket of one of the prisoners. It was understood that the raiding squad had been secretly informed more than a week ago that the lilicit battles were to take place.

week gave the tip.

Inspector David McKenney said he had been informed that cock fights had been staged recently in many cities of Canada and the United States.

Mrs. Doran, speaking of her final conference with the professor, says:

"His last words to me, a few hours before his death, were that he would prove to me, in a very simple manner, that the dead can communicate with the living.

"I answered his advertisement through a simple defire to know more about a thing in which I was little versed. I am not a Spiritualist, nor a believer in the psychic."

Prof. Bradford, after making all preparations for reporting his experiences in "the unknown" to Mrs. Doran, opened the gas jet and started on his great adventure.

On Feb. 12, one week later, Mrs. Doran, opened the gas jet and started on his great adventure.

On Feb. 12, one week later, Mrs. Doran announced she had a vague presentiment that she would hear from the professor that evening.

Semi-conscious from a blow with the butt end of a revolver, and with hands firmly tied together. William Oram, about 60 years old, nightwatchman at the interurban station, staggered from the basement of the building, where he had been attacked, and spread the alarm of the first of a series of four robberies that occurred In Ogden last night.

The interurban robbery occurred between twelve and one o'clock last night. Three men were in the gang, Oram says. They entered the building and went to the basement. Here they unscrewed all the lights from their sockets but one. Oram entered to ascertain why the lights were out, and was struck a severe blow on the
